

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to "force" their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a dangerous precedent and a threat to democracy. Isn't it a violation of federal law to disguise political ads as news?

Shouldn't they be airing an "actual" documentary like PBS's "Frontline:The Choice 2004", which looks at "both" candidates' backgrounds?

Sinclair is using public airwaves free of charge to force a political agenda on viewers. Isn't it obligated by law to serve the public interest? That would involve airing "accurate" information on "both" candidates but I haven't any of that lately. Just lies, distortions and the destruction of a good man who is simply running for office.

The corruption within the media is so deep now that I fear we may not recover if something isn't done soon and that depends upon "you." If we continue down this road we may not recover.

Please look into this matter as million of Americans are deeply concerned about this problem, especially during a very important election that will affect hundreds of millions of lives at home and abroad.

Thank you for your help and please take this matter seriously. Sinclair must not be allowed to force a political agenda on their stations and viewers.

Sincerely,

Nicki Falukos
